"Brantley — Homecoming Daygown and Bonnet" is an easy-to-sew pattern that is perfect for a home-from-the-hospital gown for a baby boy or baby girl. The bishop design allows a margin for size variations which is good when considering birth weights and birth dates. It features both a three-quarter length sleeve and a long puff sleeve and has an easy back placket with three buttons or a back button closing. "Brantley" is easy enough for beginners and lends itself to lovely embellishment detail using pretty insertions. Trims can be added to the hemline, neckline, and sleeves, as well. Also included is a matching bonnet pattern to complete your homecoming ensemble.
